1.0 Introduction

1.1 The Southern Health and Social Care Trust Adult Safeguarding Policy, “Prevention and Protections in Partnership” is intended to provide staff with guidance and support in responding appropriately to incidents of alleged, suspected or confirmed harm of adults at risk and adults in need of protection. The Trust policy reflects the Regional Adult Safeguarding: Prevention and Protection in Partnership Policy” (DHSS&PS 2015)

2.0 Purpose and Aims

2.1 This policy aims to ensure that all Trust staff, including students, volunteers working on Trust premises and services commissioned by the Trust involved in the care of adults at risk who are subject to alleged harm or serious harm, respond in a co-ordinated and consistent way to support and protect such adults.

2.2 This policy is designed to provide a clear, comprehensive and consistent approach to the management of concerns of alleged harm or serious harm of adults at risk within the Southern Health and Social Care Trust. The Southern Health & Social Care Trust is fully committed to delivering on the regional policy and supporting regional procedures. “Adult safeguarding Operational Procedures. Adults at risk of harm and adults in need of protection.” 2016 (Appendix 1). The regional procedures set out the Trust’s expectations regarding recognising alleged harm to an adult at risk and providing an appropriate alternative response. The regional procedures also set out at the Trust’s expectations for recognising, reporting and responding to concerns of alleged serious harm to an adult in need of protection. This includes responsibilities and requirements for investigation and providing protective in preventions.

3.0 Definitions

3.1 The Trust has adopted the definitions of an adult at risk and an adult in need of protection, from the DHSS&PS regional policy. The policy defines “an adult at risk of harm” as

“a person aged 18 or over, whose exposure to harm through abuse, exploitation or neglect may be increased by their (A) personal characteristics and/or (B) life circumstances.”

Furthermore, the policy defines “an adult in need of protection” as

“A person aged 18 or over whose exposure to harm through abuse, exploitation or neglect may be increased by their (A) personal characteristics and/or (B) life circumstances

AND

(C) who is unable to protect their own well-being, property, assets, rights or other interests

AND

(D) where the action or inaction of another person or persons is causing, or is likely to cause, him/her to be harmed.”

In order to meet the definition of an ‘adult in need of protection’ either (A) or (B) must be present, in addition to both elements (C), and (D).
(DHSS&PS 2015)

3.2 The definition of “harm” contained within the regional policy is

“Harm is the impact on the victim of abuse, exploitation or neglect. It is the result of any action whether by commission or omission, deliberate, or as the result of a lack of knowledge or awareness which may result in the impairment of physical, intellectual, emotional, or mental health or well-being. The full impact of harm is not always clear from the outset, or even at the time it is first reported. Consideration must be given not only to the immediate impact of harm and risk to the victim, but also the potential longer term impact and the risk of future harm. Harmful conduct may constitute a criminal offence or professional misconduct. A number of factors will influence the determination of the seriousness of harm. A single traumatic incident may cause harm or a number of 'small' incidents may accumulate into 'serious harm' against one individual, or reveal persistent or recurring harm perpetrated against many individuals." (DHSS&PS 2015)

3.3 The definition of "serious harm" contained within the regional policy is

"The judgement of what constitutes 'serious harm' is a complex one and demands careful application of professional judgement against a number of criteria. Assessments conducted by or on behalf of statutory HSC professionals should include consideration of the following:

- a) The impact on the adult at risk;*
- b) The reactions, perceptions, wishes and feelings of the adult at risk;*
- c) The frailty or vulnerability of the adult at risk;*
- d) The ability of the adult at risk to consent and participate in the decision making process;*
- e) The illegality of the act(s);*
- f) The nature, degree and extent of harm;*
- g) The pattern of the harm-causing behaviour;*
- h) Previous incidents, including any previous HSC Trust involvement*
- i) The level of threat to the adult at risk's right to independence;*
- j) The apparent intent of the alleged perpetrator and extent of premeditation;*
- k) The relationship between the alleged perpetrator and the adult at risk;*
- l) The context in which the alleged harm takes place;*
- m) the risk of repetition or escalation of harm involving increasingly serious acts relating to this individual or other adults at risk; and*
- n) The factors which mitigate the risk through service provision or wider arrangements.*

There are no absolute criteria for judging when harm has become 'serious harm'; however this decision should include consideration of the degree, severity, duration and frequency of harm. The seriousness of harm depends on the impact experienced by the individual. Particularly careful consideration must be given to cases where the adult is unable to understand the impact harm is having on them. This will demand the application of professional judgement to consider all of the available evidence, the concerns and the wishes of the individual and to determine the seriousness of harm and the most appropriate intervention." (DHSS&PS 2015)

3.4 The definition of "abuse" contained within the regional policy is

"Abuse is 'a single or repeated act, or lack of appropriate action, occurring within any relationship where there is an expectation of trust, which causes harm or distress to another individual or violates their human or civil rights'⁵. Abuse is the misuse of power and control that one person has over another. Abuse may be perpetrated by a wide range of people, including those who are usually physically and/or emotionally close to the individual and on whom the individual may depend and trust. This may include, but is not limited to, a partner, relative or other family member, a person entrusted to act on behalf of the adult in some aspect of their affairs, a service or care provider, a neighbour, a health or social care worker or professional, an employer, a volunteer or another service user. It may also be perpetrated by those who have no previous connection to the victim". (DHSS&PS 2015)

4.0 Policy Statement

4.1 The Southern Health & Social Care Trust recognises that abuse is a violation of an individual's human and civil rights. The Trust has zero tolerance in relation to all forms of abuse and exploitation. The Trust is fully committed to ensuring that adults who are subject to alleged harm, serious harm or abuse are supported and protected.

4.2 The Southern Health & Social Care Trust is fully committed to delivering on “Adult Safeguarding: Prevention and Protection in Partnership.” (DHSS&PS 2015) The Corporate Adult Safeguarding Blueprint for 2017 - 2022 to oversee the implementation of the new Regional Policy and Procedures has now been replaced with the Trust Adult Protection Operational Group who are accountability to the Director’s Oversight group for adult safeguarding in Southern Trust.

4.3 It is the policy of the Trust that all commissioned services are expected to recognise, respond and report concerns regarding adults at risk of harm to the relevant service group within the Trust. All commissioned services are expected to have in place an Adult Safeguarding Champion and where appropriate appointed persons, to deliver on the adult safeguarding responsibilities as outlined in the regional policy and procedures. Commissioned services are also expected to recognise, respond and report concerns regarding adults in need of protection to the Trust Adult Protection Gateway Team. Services commissioned by the Trust are also required to comply with legislative requirements and regional policies, procedures and protocols.
