Response

All Medical posts are advertised in the following media outlets

- HSC Recruit <https://jobs.hscni.net/>
- BMJ Journal (Print),
- BMJ online,
- Jobs HSCNI website,
- Social media platforms (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram & LinkedIn).
- Irish Medical Times, NHS Jobs. (when advertised a second time in a year)

BMJ Careers is a prominent web based platform for the recruitment of hospital, GP and international doctors. It features a wide variety of medical vacancies, covering all sectors, specialties and geographies. The Southern Trust have invested in an upgraded BMJ subscription, which gives us a greater and more prominent presence on the BMJ careers page. This subscription allows us to promote the Trust to prospective candidates and integrates images, text and video clips made by our staff. The adverts appear on the BMJ Employer Hub and in all BMJ Career publications. From October 2020 the Trust can now get unlimited online advertisements with online enhancements.

We work to ensure all Medical posts outline the attractive terms and conditions of service, desirable and innovative job plans, opportunities for personal and professional development, generous supporting professional activities and study leave entitlements. A sample of what a medical advertisement looks like is also included below. Where a post is deemed hard to fill, it will also be sent to our contracted agencies specialising in international recruitment.
